State Leadership & Skills Conference

SkillsUSA Georgia's State Leadership & Skills Conference brings Georgia's top competitors together to test their skills. The state level contest is an abbreviated version of the national level contest and is typically completed within one day. These contests are governed by a mix of the SkillsUSA Technical Standards and Georgia specific contest rules/updates. For details see skillsusageorgia.org/championships.

**Limited contests may require multiple days of competition and/or orientation/familiarization.*

Region Championships

SkillsUSA Georgia is divided into 7 regions. Each region hosts qualifying events for a limited set of contests. These region events are typically half-day contests that use a condensed version of the state level contest to assess a competitor's ability to advance to the state level. The first, second and third place competitors from each region advance to the State Leadership & Skills Conference.

Local Championships

Local Championships are a great way to identify which students should represent your chapter at the region and state level. SkillsUSA has created Local Championships Guides for several contests that guide SkillsUSA advisors through a local Championships process. These guides are accessible via your professional member benefits module in SkillsUSA Absorb.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Can a student compete in more than one competition?

A: Yes. At SLSC, a student can compete in a written knowledge assessment, pre-submission, and SLSC live competitions. A student cannot compete in two SLSC live contests. If the student places first in two national contests they will have to choose which one they would like to compete in. They cannot compete in more than one competition at NLSC.

Q: Where are the competition rules?

A: For Georgia only contests, please use the contest detail finder to access the contest guidelines. The contest detail finder is located here. For National Level Competitions, the Technical Standards are housed in the SkillsUSA Absorb. You can access the link via the contest detail finder or visit the Absorb website here. Here is a video to help you access the National Technical Standards on the Absorb website.

Q: Does a student have to be a SkillsUSA member to compete?

A: All students and advisors must be registered SkillsUSA members in order to register for SLSC.

Q: How do I register for competitions?

A: Advisors will register their students and themselves through the SkillsUSA Georgia Register site. All students and advisors must be registered SkillsUSA members in order to register for SLSC. No Late registration allowed. Please visit this link for step by step directions on how to register.

Q: How do I know how the contest will be run at SLSC?

A: Students and Advisors should review the Technical Standards of each contest. Each contestant should be prepared to demonstrate all the skills within the Technical Standards. However, students may not be tested on every skill at SLSC since the Technical Standards are written for a national competition that lasts over several days and the state competition is less than six hours. Another critical component of knowing how the contest will be run is reviewing any contest updates.

Q: What is a contest update?

A: A competition update is anything that is not listed in the SkillsUSA Championships Technical Standards and that a competitor and/or advisor needs to be aware of and bring for the competition.

Q: How many competitors from my school can compete in one contest?

A: SkillsUSA only allows one contestant per school unless specified otherwise.

A: Yes, as long as your chapter has funds remaining in your account. You can check your balance here. To apply to use the grant for SLSC, please complete the application by Feb. 8, 2023: State Leadership & Skills Conference Form

Q: Why is the Back on the Road Grant application due on the same date as SLSC registration?

Q: How do I calculate the conference fees to apply for the Back on the Road grant without an official invoice?

A: The grant can only be used for student fees and the school chapter fee. Multiply the registration fee times the number of students attending the conference and then add the chapter fee to calculate the total.
